A new control test to determine group entities

Mind the GAP

Participants:
- If you are very concerned about your company, you may need to do some preventive measures. This test will help you identify any weaknesses in your company's controls and improve them.

Participants should:
- Be aware of their company's strengths and weaknesses.
- Identify areas where they need to improve their controls.
- Implement preventive measures to avoid potential losses.

Potential benefits:
- By using this test, you can identify and prevent potential losses before they happen.
- This test can be used in any industry or business.
- It is an easy and affordable test to conduct.

Participating in this test:
- You will receive a report on your company's controls.
- You can use this report to improve your company's controls.
- You can also use this report to plan your future activities.

For more information:
- Contact us at info@mindthegap.com
- Visit our website at www.mindthegap.com

---

A new control test to determine group entities...